

Acheson, Bevin Want Jap Treaty Quickly

May Make New Bid With Russ For It

Washington, Sept. 14—(AP)—Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Bevin centered their talks on Europe and the Balkans today after agreeing that a Japanese peace treaty is urgently needed for a long-delayed Pacific settlement.

Acheson reported the two in agreement on the need for the treaty, and indicated the United States and Britain may make a new bid to Soviet Russia to end a two year deadlock over what countries shall take part in drafting it.

At the same time it was learned that the two governments frown on the idea advanced in Athens of a Greek invasion of Albania to block further support from that country for the communist guerrillas.

Tackle Cold War
For the second day, the two top policy chiefs were tackling the pressing cold war political problems which confront the western powers.

They said in a joint statement at the end of an hour-long meeting at the state department that the discussion was "largely on political developments in Europe, including the Balkans." Also taken up were problems concerned with the formation here next Saturday of the 12-nation North Atlantic Pact council. The exchange of views was described as "mutually satisfactory."

Then Acheson and Bevin went to the capitol for luncheon with members of the Senate Foreign Relations committee.

The foreign policy review, which began yesterday with a three hour discussion of far east and middle east questions, will be broadened tomorrow into a three power meeting following the arrival of French Foreign Minister Schuman. All three plan to go to New York for the opening there next Tuesday of the United Nations general assembly.

Given At News Conference
Acheson's report on the Anglo-American stand on the Japanese treaty was given at a news conference. He announced first that the United States has decided now to turn over to the U. N. the long dispute with communist Bulgaria, Romania, and Hungary over alleged violation of their treaty pledges to respect human rights, and then replied to reporters' questions.

Plans for the Japanese treaty have been deadlocked for two years because of Russia's insistence that it be drafted by the major Pacific powers alone. The United States and other nations which fought Japan want 11 countries to have a hand.

The United States, Acheson said, thought the treaty was an urgent matter two years ago and still thinks so. He said the British have the same idea and that he and Bevin were going over the issue to try to find new ideas on how to proceed.

Douglas Says All Must Help To Aid US Economy Drive

Galesburg, Ill., Sept. 14—(AP)—Sen. Paul H. Douglas, (D-Ill.) continued a pulse-taking tour of his home state today and reiterated his advice to taxpayers, "don't insist on unreasonable federal money grants if you want government economy."

He spoke to combined service clubs here, telling them that the 81st Congress has made a good start on government expense cutting.

Legislators, he said, are becoming more economy conscious and have voted substantial savings.

"I have personally introduced amendments which, if passed, would have meant savings over $700,000,000. I have also voted for other amendments which would have saved over $2,500,000,000," he said.

Hold Last Rites For Rutledge

Washington, Sept. 14—(AP)—Funeral services for Supreme Court Justice Wiley Blount Rutledge were held at All Souls' Unitarian church, where he had worshipped for several years.

The rites were conducted by the pastor, the Rev. Dr. A. Powell Davies, who paid tribute to Rutledge as a teacher, a judge and a man.

Lewis Says No Royalty Endangers Society

Bluefield, W. Va., Sept. 14—(AP)—John L. Lewis threw out another demand for unpaid coal royalties today with a prediction that a no-pay policy can start a "social convulsion" in the mine fields.

This time he sought help from the billion-dollar Cleveland Trust company in his dispute with southern coal operators over the 20 cents a ton levy which goes into the miners' welfare fund.

The trust company, in a reply made public by the National Coal Association in Washington, said it controls no coal companies and could not accede to Lewis' request.

Lewis did not specify the exact type of "social convulsion" he was talking about.

This surprise move, postponing a showdown over the payments, seemed to ease any immediate threat of a strike call.

There had been some strike rumors among the rank and file miners as contract talks resumed here between the United Mine Workers and the southern operators.

Almost at the hour negotiations were resumed, Lewis made public a telegram to I. F. Freiberg, chairman of the Cleveland Trust Company at Cleveland, Ohio.

He appealed to the giant bank to use its power as trustee of the Holden estate to make James D. (Jim) Francis pay up.

Francis is president of the Holden estate's Island Creek and Pond Creek Pocahontas Coal companies in West Virginia. They produce about one-tenth of the 97,000,000 tons turned out each year by the members of the Southern Coal Producers Association.

Lewis blames Francis for spearheading the revolt against paying the royalty which finances $100 a month pensions and other benefits. Yesterday the mine union president sent Francis a telegram asking him to "please remit" and backed it up by what coal sources termed a strike threat. Francis told Lewis the impasse could be ended by signing a contract.

Trustees Doubtful
Tucker Corp. Can Be Reorganized

Chicago, Sept. 14—(AP)—Trustees of the founded Tucker corporation reported to a federal judge today "it appears extremely doubtful" that it can be reorganized.

However, the court-appointed officials, who had been ordered to submit a reorganization plan tomorrow or report why organization might not be feasible, asked District Judge Michael L. Igoe to let them have until Oct. 3 to consider the question.

The corporation was organized by Preston Tucker in 1946 to produce a rear-engine automobile. The firm took in approximately $29,000,000 through stock sales and franchises, but went on the financial rocks before setting up an assembly line.

Creditors asked the court to take charge of the firm. Meanwhile, Tucker's financial deals ran afoul of the securities and exchange commission, and Tucker and several other officials were indicted on mail fraud charges.

Search For Plane,
Reported Crashed
In Lake, Called Off

Michigan City, Ind., Sept. 14—(AP)—Coast guard officials tonight called off a search for a small plane reported down in Lake Michigan.

Crash boats from four coast guard stations were called in at dark after spending hours hunting for the wreckage of the small craft.

Passengers aboard a Capitol Airlines plane enroute from Chicago to Benton Harbor, Mich., reported sighting the plane about 30 miles northeast of Chicago and 20 miles north-northwest of here. The message from the airline said there were no signs of life aboard the small plane.

The coast guard has been searching since last Sunday for a light plane missing in a flight from Grand Rapids to Milwaukee. Mrs. Robert Japies, 26, of Milwaukee and John D. Rice of Flint, Mich., were aboard the plane.

Bastogne Hero Named Head Of Army Chemical Corps

Washington, Sept. 14—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Anthony Clement McAuliffe, the hero of Bastogne who replied "nuts" to a German demand for surrender of his hard-pressed troops in 1944, today was picked to be chief of the army's chemical corps.

McAuliffe, fondly known to his GIs as "Old Crock," was singled out for the post by President Truman. His nomination was sent to the senate.

Charges Truman Bent On Lifting All Tariff In U.S.

Washington, Sept. 14—(AP)—Senator Wherry of Nebraska charged today the administration is bent on "tearing away the last shred" of tariff protection for American industry and jobs.

He argued that the peril point restriction which he and other Republicans want to write into the reciprocal trade agreements bill is merely "a reasonable safeguard."

Senator Robertson (D-Va.), aligned with administration forces opposing the amendment, fired back that it is "unnecessary, unwise and objectionable."

The senate begins voting tomorrow 3 p.m. (CST) on this and other amendments, followed by a vote on the bill itself. The House already has approved the legislation which would restore the president's power to make mutual tariff cutting agreements with other nations and extend that power until June 12, 1951.

Medina Charges Red Lawyer With Contempt Of Court

New York, Sept. 14—(AP)—Federal Judge Harold R. Medina angrily slapped a contempt citation today on George W. Crockett, Jr., Negro defense lawyer in the Communist conspiracy trial.

It was Medina's first such crack-down on a lawyer since the trial began nearly eight months ago. The judge has jailed five of the 11 defendants for contempt and has announced that action will be taken against several defense attorneys after the trial ends.

Medina imposed no penalty on Crockett immediately but told him: "You will be brought to justice."

Crockett, who comes from Detroit, incurred the judge's wrath by interrupting while Medina was reading aloud from a birth certificate.

"In view of your honor's seemingly unintentional reading," was all the lawyer got to say.

Medina's ruddy face paled. He called the statement one of the most contemptuous he had ever heard in a courtroom.

"I now adjudge you in contempt for that," he said.

Reports Illinois Is Living Within Resources So Far

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 14—(AP)—The state finance director said today that Illinois is living within its resources. He said income exceeded expectations by 1.7 per cent in the first two months of the current fiscal period.

However, Director George W. Mitchell reported to the state budgetary commission that $150,000,000 in new revenue would have to be found to support spending at the present rate in the biennium starting July 1, 1951.

Reviewing the state's financial picture, Mitchell gave two main reasons why the books balance. For one, tax collections going into the general fund are running ahead of estimates made last spring as a basis for the 1949-51 budget. If the trend established in July and August continues through June, 1950, general taxes will bring in $4,500,000 more than the $265,500,000 that planners thought would be collected.

The second reason is that the state is paying bills in part from a surplus that accumulated during and after the war.

Youth, 16, Charged With Death, Calls Witness A 'Liar'

Dover, Del., Sept. 14—(AP)—A state police witness' testimony was interrupted by a shouted "Liar" in Delaware's lonely hearts murder trial today.

Robert Brennan, 16-year-old farm youth charged with the shotgun slaying of Wade N. Woodridge, leaped to his feet and shouted "You are a Liar" when the witness identified a hand saw he said the youth told him belonged to the 67-year-old Bedford County, Va., carpenter.

Lt. Winfield Cochran of the Delaware state police had been relating to the jury of 10 men and two women the oral "confession" Robert is alleged to have made.

The boy's mother, Mrs. Inez Brennan, reached out a restraining hand when Robert leaped to his feet, but he sat down almost immediately.

The 45-year-old Mrs. Brennan is on trial with her son as an accomplice in Woodridge's death. It was the first time during the three-day-old trial that either defendant had shown any emotion.

Big Steel Will Not Accept Board's Formula Outright

Rifle, Colorado, Sept. 14—(AP)—The extraction of oil from shale has been solved here, assuring the United States has used in all 90 years since oil was discovered in Pennsylvania.

The baptism of this new industry takes place here next week. Then the U. S. Bureau of Mines will demonstrate to more than 200 key industrial men the new shale mine, the oil plant and new processes which make this new kind of oil as cheaply as petroleum.

Boyd Guthrie, supervising engineer, said today: "Based on work to date, we estimate a barrel of crude shale oil can be produced from $2.25 to $2.50."

Crude petroleum has been selling for around $2.50 a barrel recently. An act of congress in 1944, five years work and about $6,000,000 produced this industrial miracle. Congress legislated with the idea that in the foreseeable future the United States should never run short of oil.

The single mass of marlstone shale, a 9,000-foot high plateau covering 1000 square miles, which the Bureau of Mines has tapped here in west central Colorado contains about seven times more oil than the United States has used in all 90 years since oil was discovered in Pennsylvania.

The plateau has 22 times more recoverable oil than the proven petroleum reserves of the entire United States.

The bureau men here believe they have advanced the science of making shale oil to the point where it can now begin to supplement petroleum. This has been a goal of oil men all over the world for more than a century, for shale oil antedates petroleum.

The most spectacular thing the bureau has done is in new methods of mining the shale rock. In the present tests each miner is producing more than 100 tons daily. The limit was supposed to be six tons a man in 1925 when scientists investigated.

The cost here is just over 30 cents a ton. To that, industry will have to add another 30 cents for overhead and depreciation. Extraction and refining make up most of the rest of the cost.

The mine is at 8,200 feet in the face of almost vertical brown, gray, blue-gray and black shale cliffs. Even an atom bomb cannot damage this shale oil mine, unless it hits the cave-like entrance directly.

More than half a mile lower, against the foot of the cliff, are the extraction and refining plants. Crude shale oil is a cross between oil and coal. Under 90 degrees Fahrenheit, the new oil is a soft, black solid. But it makes good gasoline and diesel oil, good fuel oils and promises powerful new jet plane fuels. Refining still has to be perfected.

The petroleum industry already is in. Standard Oil of New Jersey and Union Oil Company each have experimental plants, with special methods of their own.

The marlstone deposits here, in Utah and Wyoming are the richest in the country. Twenty other states and Alaska have good shale deposits.

Successful Extraction Of Oil
From Shale Boosts U.S. Gas Supply

Shanute Air Base, Ill., Sept. 14—(AP)—An air force guardhouse prisoner—AWOL nearly two months until his apprehension yesterday—died today of a skull fracture. Air military police said that when they picked him up he told of having been in a fight in Grant Park in Chicago.

The airman was Pvt. Raymond Shaw, 31, Base authorities said he had been absent without leave since July 17.

Captain Donald L. Pierce, air provost marshal, said that a telephone call informed him of Shaw's whereabouts: 1325 Kirk street, in Elmhurst, Ill., a Chicago suburb.

When a squad of air military police picked Shaw up there at 2:30 a.m. Tuesday, he looked as if he had been in a fight, Pierce said, and told of having been in one in Grant Park in Chicago. He was drunk when arrested, Pierce said.

Upon return to the base, he was put in the guardhouse. Capt. Seth Lurie said that Shaw fainted Tuesday afternoon, and was removed to the station hospital. Brain surgery there revealed a fractured skull.

Big Steel Will Not Accept Board's Formula Outright

Would First Bargain With CIO

Pittsburgh, Sept. 14—(AP)—United States Steel Corporation today bluntly refused to accept the presidential fact finding board's steel peace formula without bargaining.

CIO Steelworker Philip Murray forced the issue, developing anew the threat of a nationwide steel strike at the expiration of the presidential truce Sept. 25.

Murray told U. S. Steel President Benjamin P. Fairless to state plainly whether the nation's No. 1 steel producer would accept the board's recommendations.

Didn't Like First Answer
Murray didn't like Fairless' initial answer that they resume bargaining without committing Big Steel on the board findings.

Fairless quickly fired back that the steelworker chief can't dictate U. S. Steel's acceptance as a condition to bargaining but he's willing to renew conferences.

And Fairless made it plain for the first time just how Big Steel feels about the fact finders' report. Big Steel doesn't like it.

President Truman's board recommended a 10-cent hourly package for the steelworkers' million members to cover company financed insurance and pensions but not wages. Financing the program is the thorn in the side of Big Steel.

Said Fairless: "In spite of the fact that the cost of producing steel will be increased by any new contributory program of social insurance, United States Steel is willing to pay up to four cents an hour, the amount suggested by the presidential steel board, as its proper share of the cost of a proper program for social insurance on a contributory basis arrived at through collective bargaining."

"It's position, however, is that as a matter of sound principle any program of social insurance be on a contributory basis. An hour first glance a cost of 10 cents an hour for social security under the recommended non-contributory program may seem like a small amount."

Adds $3 A Ton To Steel
"But when applied to the steel industry, the cost of such a non-contributory program would be approximately $200,000,000 a year when operating at full capacity, as in 1948. That would be the equivalent of adding $3 to the cost of each ton of steel produced in the country last year."

Murray didn't comment immediately. A spokesman said he was studying Big Steel's reply and that no answer could be expected before tomorrow at the earliest.

The close mouthed Scotsman gave up his fight for a fourth round wage increase for his men who average around $1.65 an hour. But he insists on insurance and pension programs financed entirely by the industry.

Wounded Man Held After Attempted Entry Into Depot

Freeport, Ill., Sept. 14—(AP)—A wounded railroad watchman was held without charge here today after, Sheriff Ray K. Mead said, he admitted trying to break into a nearby freight depot.

Martin Rios, 24, was taken into custody in Freeport following an anonymous tip. Mead said Rios, who had an abdominal bullet wound, had eluded a posse for two days.

He said Rios told him that he rubbed tobacco juice on his wound and walked six miles to his Freeport hotel after he was shot while attempting to enter the freight depot at Scioto Mills.

Vito Malae, 28, of Madison, Wis. freight agent for the Illinois Central railroad at Scioto Mills, said he fired at an intruder at 2 a.m. Monday. He related the man had tossed a rock through a depot window and was attempting to enter the building.

The agreement was reached at an unpublished meeting, in a downtown hotel, of officials of the Chicago Newspapers association and Local 16, Chicago Typographical Union (AFL).

Terms of a proposed new contract will be voted upon at a meeting of the 1,500 striking printers Sunday. John J. Pilch, Local 16 president, said terms of the contract had been approved by the executive council of the International Typographical Union.

Pilch recommended acceptance by the local's rank and file. Under the proposed contract, the printers would get a $10 weekly wage increase.

Frank Semanara, a member of the executive board of Local 16, said the agreement "gives the printers the best working conditions possible under the Taft-Hartley act."

SAFE DRIVING LECTURES ARE OLD STUFF—BUT ARE STILL NEEDED

Americans no doubt get tired of lectures on safe driving. But it is a burden they will have to bear until they do a better job. The nearly 400 traffic fatalities on the Labor Day weekend suggest that moment has not yet arrived.

We might as well face it. Unless motorists themselves do something, these fatalities will get worse before they get better.

More and more cars are crowding the roads every day. It will be years before more adequate, safer highways are built in sufficient volume to help much. Formal driver education will be a slow, gradual process.

In the meantime, the slaughter continues. And only today's motorists driving on today's highways can stop it. There is little use addressing an appeal to the many drivers who are temperamentally or physically unsuited to handling an automobile—a job that after all does require definite quick thinking and steady nerves. Perhaps some day driving tests will screen out the worst of this group.

But to those who can and should be capable drivers, we urge that they handle a car as if their lives depended on it. Plainly, that is the fact. One insurance firm has proposed that motorists pretend they are accompanied every mile of their way by state highway police. A good idea, if it would help to develop responsibility at the wheel.

Try to remember, motorists: Your car is not your office, a social club, your living room, a seat at the ball game or a romantic corner in the park. It is a mode of transport which, unless attended to constantly, is extremely dangerous to have in motion.

When it is moving and you are behind the wheel, it is no place to pull on gloves, light cigarettes, read maps, pick up things off the floor, cast loving glances around, gesticulate wildly in conversation, day-dream.

Perform these little rituals and indulge these fancies either at the curb side, or at home. This may sound severe, but it isn't as hard as a slab in the morgue. Which do you prefer?

Your task is first to maintain full control of your car at all times. If you can't maneuver safely no matter how critical the situation becomes, you don't belong on the highways. Stop holding up the roof with one hand. A good driver keeps both hands on the wheel.

Secondly, you must keep steadily aware of the total driving situation. Too many drivers operate as if they were driving in a cozy little vacuum empty of every car but their own.

At all times you have to know what is going on well in front of you, to both sides and to the rear. Use your mirrors. Look far ahead. Pay attention to signals from the drivers. Watch the sidelines for cars starting up from the curb, darting out of gas stations, drive-ins, parking lots. Beware of pedestrians, animals, any moving thing that might upset your stream of traffic or the opposing one.

Adapt your driving to the weather, the character of the highway pavement, the amount of light you have by day and by night.

Grasping the total situation is more than merely seeing. It means being able to sense potential danger in apparently innocent traffic circumstances. And knowing what to do whatever develops.

The poorest bet on wheels is the driver who regards motoring as one big happy round of pleasure with no responsibilities. Apparently blind to the spirited competition for space on the highways, this man drifts blithely along, creating trouble as he goes without even knowing it. He doesn't realize there is a driving situation. And yet, though it may never strike him, he is an agent of death.

This irresponsible man is one vital key to motoring safety. Let's make him attend to his driving job or retire him to his immovable porch!

Mary Virginia Tarzwell Bride Of Bernard Lahey

Rites At Church Wednesday Unite Local Couple

In an impressive double-ring ceremony which took place Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock in the Church of Our Saviour, Miss Mary Virginia Tarzwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Tarzwell, rural route two, Jacksonville, became the bride of Bernard Lahey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Lahey, rural route six, Jacksonville.

Rev. Father John Morris received the vows and was also celebrant of the nuptial Mass. For the occasion, the altar was decorated with baskets of cut fall flowers.

Appropriate musical selections were played by Mrs. Alta Mae Eisch, church organist.

Gowned In White

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white slipper satin, fashioned with a tight fitting bodice and long sleeves tapering to points at the wrist. The Chantilly lace yoke buttoned to a Peter Pan collar and the full skirt fell in train.

The fingertip veil of bridal illusion was held in place with a coronet of crystallized orange blossoms. White carnations, showered with white satin ribbons, fashioned the bridal bouquet.

The bride's sister, Miss Ellen Tarzwell, was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Rosemary Casey, cousin of the bridegroom, and Miss Mary Agnes Ring, cousin of the bride.

All three attendants were attired in matching gowns, designed with fitted bodices, cap sleeves, square necklines and marquisette skirts over taffeta.

The honor attendant was gown in pale lavender, while the bridesmaids wore yellow and light green, respectively. Large picture hats and mitts in matching shades completed their attire. Their bouquets were of white carnations, centered with matching puffs.

Bridegroom's Attendants

Danny Lahey, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The groomsmen were William Tarzwell, brother of the bride, and James Lonergan, cousin of the bride. Francis Ring, also a cousin of the bride, Don Robinson and Roy Tholen seated the guests.

Following the ceremony, a reception was given at the Dunlap hotel for members of the bridal party and the immediate families. A three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the couple and then served to the guests by the Misses Jean Mawson, Shirley Glossop and Lois Sample.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Tarzwell chose a dress of pale blue satin, with which she wore black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Lahey, wore blue crepe, with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Trip Through North

The couple then left on a wedding trip through the northern states. For traveling, the bride wore a burgundy suit, with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Upon returning, they will reside on rural route six, Jacksonville.

Mrs. Lahey is a graduate of Routh High school and Hardin-Brown Business college. For the past year, she has been employed at the Morgan County Abstract office.

Mr. Lahey, a graduate of Routh High school, served two years with the army signal corps. At present, he is associated with his father in farming.

Emergency Polio Drive Under Way In Greene County

Carrollton—The emergency drive for funds for the National Foundation of the Infantile Paralysis, which began Sept. 8th, is being advanced in Greene county, under the directorship of Dwight Connors, county clerk, with F. B. Dawson as chairman and Mrs. Fred Ashlock as treasurer.

The current widespread polio epidemic this summer has depleted the funds in the National Foundation as well as in the fund retained to be used in Greene county on March 2, in Greene county there was a balance on hand in the infantile paralysis fund of $4333.44 and since that date a total of $3916.88 has been used to care for the Greene county patients.

These include Margery Russell, Gloria Allen and James Louis Orris of Kane; Ronald Anderson of Woodville; Donald Lee Orris of Linder; Lloyd Hanna of Rockbridge; Bonnie Sue Hardwick and Walter Neil Laris of Carrollton; and Marlene; Laura Costello and Rhonda Nelle Parks of Greenfield.

Not all in this group contacted the disease this year but some who became ill in former years are still receiving treatment, which is being paid from the county fund.

TRAFALGAR SHIP TO BE SUNK

London—(P)—One of the two surviving ships that fought in the battle of Trafalgar—the old wooden wall "Impacable"—is to be sunk. This will leave only the "Victory," Lord Nelson's flagship during this great battle with Napoleon's navy.

The Victory is preserved in a drydock at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.

The Admiralty said no definite date for the sinking of the "Impacable" has been set up but the old ship is to be taken down the English Channel and sunk in Hurd Deep, off Alderney in the Channel Islands.

Much was done to try to preserve this link with a glorious episode in British naval history, the Admiralty said, but it was found impracticable to save her. The cost of making her shipshape was estimated at $800,000.

Sure You Haven't A "Blind Spot"?
As I was driving down Main Street last Saturday, another car swung out right in front of me. It turned out to be Buck Blake. He wasn't going fast. It was just that he had something else on his mind at that particular moment.
Buck's really one of the nicest fellows I've ever known. But, sometimes he gets to day-dreaming on the road. He sort of gets a "blind spot" to what's going on about him!
Now, lots of normally considerate folks have their "blind spots,"
It could be anything from day-dreaming while driving a car to humming out loud at the movies.
From where I sit, it's mighty important to be on guard against your own "blind spots." The other fellow has a right to his "share of the road," too—whether it's having a taste for a temperate glass of sparkling beer or a desire to listen to some classical music if he wants to.

XXXIII

CHRISTMAS had come and gone and Gynel had had no word from Fritz. "Take me or leave me," he had said. And, apparently, had taken himself completely out of her life.

But Barry had been planning a house party at his winter lodge near Grayling. He insisted it would not be complete unless Gynel were there.

"I accept with alacrity," Gynel responded. "Which should prove how much it is appreciated. Barry dear. And, by the way, I've changed my mind about not wanting to meet Madeline Day. I wish you'd invite her for Denny over the week-end."

Gynel wanted to know this woman who had brought about such a miraculous change in her young brother. Not only was he making good at his job, but last month he had paid Gynel back $20 of what he owed her and had promised—a bit shamefacedly—that he meant to do even better from now on.

"I want to contribute a little something," Denny said. "May only be a drop in the bucket, for awhile. But nobody's going to call me a sponger—and get away with it."

So Fritz's remarks, as well as Mrs. Day's influence, had sunk into Denny's conscience.

Barry's prediction that The Lodge was just what Gynel needed proved to be right. The crisp air had whipped the color back into her cheeks and restored her appetite to a scandalous degree.

Denny was to come up for the week-end and bring some friends along. Meantime Gynel was glad to have a chance to meet Madeline Day, whom she found to be everything that Barry and Denny had said she was.

MRS. DAY had that "certain something" that Barry had called glamour. She had more than she had thought she would never fall in love again. But that now she was not so certain. It was not amazing, really. Madeline and Barry would be eminently suited in every way.

Except that Barry took it for granted he wanted to marry Gynel.

ON Saturday came the special train that brings its hilarious load of passengers from Detroit. The ice rink was crowded with skaters, the eating places and shelters packed.

It looked like a gay carnival. It was so festive and gay that it seemed almost unreal. So that Gynel, skating with Barry, toward the end of the afternoon, was not as taken back with the unreality of suddenly coming face to face with Bessie Carter and Fritz.

Her heart did a somersault, naturally, but she was surprised to find how cool and collected her voice sounded, as they all exchanged greetings.

Bessie, with her gilt freckles, looked very smart in her green skating costume; sport togs suited, and emphasized, her streamlined figure. She looked very sure of herself and she clung onto Fritz's arm in a way that suggested not only support, but possession.

"It was funny," Bessie said. "There was plenty of noise, and clowning, and refreshments. We've been having fun ever since Fritz came back two weeks ago—haven't we, Fritz darling?" Her tone and her look were possessive, too.

Fritz agreed that fun was what they had been having, his eyes looking into Gynel's dark ones a brief, but significant, moment.

Gynel returned his look steadily. He hadn't lost much time. Hadn't he told her that Bessie, and her gilt freckles, might get him on the rebound? Didn't Bessie always get what she went after? He had been home two weeks, and never called her. Gynel said, lightly, her hold tightening on Barry's arm. "Nice to have seen you. Don't let us interrupt that fun—any longer." She skated on; Barry had to lengthen his stride to keep up with her.

Escapes From Greene County Jail Captured By Officers Yesterday

Carrollton—After the most extensive manhunt in the history of Greene county, Ernest Snyder and Dudley Weston, who escaped jail at Carrollton last Saturday night after beating Sheriff Arthur Powell in the bullpen, were captured shortly after 12 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in a weed patch in a field one half mile south of the REA Substation at Walkerville, about 12 miles from Carrollton.

The two escaped prisoners were captured by State Highway Patrolman "Slim" Curbeth of Carrollton and Policemen Fred Bryant and Mayor R. Frame of White Hall.

The men were first sighted shortly after noon in the neighborhood of the Walkerville substation by a motorist who telephoned the police department at White Hall. Curbeth, Bryant and Mayor Frame immediately drove to the scene and after a search of almost an hour discovered the two fugitives hiding in a weed patch. They surrendered without resistance.

The men were placed in an automobile and taken to the county jail at Carrollton where they were locked up with Harold Kessinger, another prisoner who also escaped, but who was captured on a highway near White Hall shortly after he had made a break from the jail.

BROTHERS REUNITED

After 42 years the Greathouse brothers—Claude (right) and Bryant—have been reunited.

Their separation ended Sunday when Claude, 56, made a surprise visit at the home of 70 year old Bryant's grandson, Henry Butcher, at 308 Hove street.

Claude, who was recently discharged from the U. S. Army after 28 years, which included service in both World Wars, came to Jacksonville on an "almost unbelievable" tip from a chance acquaintance. He has since returned to his home in Montgomery, Ala.

Bryant has been a resident of Jacksonville for the past 50 years and most of his immediate family live here. They include a daughter, Mrs. Florence Butcher; two grandsons, Henry and James Butcher, and six great grandchildren. His wife passed away about a year ago. Another granddaughter, Mrs. Mae Crofford, lives in Chicago and was not present to meet her great uncle.

Quarry Operators Named in Suit

Springfield—Troy Long, of Taylorville, an employee of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, was appointed receiver of real estate and property belonging to Alfred Bossarte in a suit heard Tuesday by Federal Judge Charles G. Briggie. Bossarte and Thomas M. Hardwick, operators of a stone quarry at Winchester, were named the defendants in a suit filed by the R.F.C. The suit charged the defendants with falling in arrears on two loans for $32,000 and $10,436 issued by the Elliott State bank. The defendants signed two promissory notes for the amount of the loans and mortgages on property adjacent to the quarry together with certain equipment as security.

In the suit the R.F.C. claimed it had bought the notes and the mortgages from the bank last July 15. It asserted the defendants had defaulted on payments of the loan after paying $6000.

I.A.A. Road Study Group Seeks County Unit System

Chicago—A recommendation that rural roads be consolidated into a county unit system was made in a published report Wednesday by the Illinois Agricultural Association Road Study committee. For example, under this plan a county like LaSalle with 37 township road districts would have one road district. Recommendations of the committee are subject to approval by the voting delegates to the IAA annual meeting set for Nov. 14-17 at Chicago.

Morgan county has 14 road districts. K. T. Smith of Greenfield was the chairman of the group which made the study. Cullen B. Sweet, formerly of Franklin, is the director of the rural road improvement department of the I.A.A.

The recommendation came after a year's study of Illinois' deplorable rural road conditions by 25 farmers representing every section of the state. The report suggested further that before there is any consolidation, the people be given a chance to vote on the county unit district.

"Over-Organization"
In criticizing the present system of road administration, the IAA road study committee pointed out that Illinois has a confusing amount of over-organization in its road system. "This over-organization," the report says, "is responsible for much of the expense of highway service in Illinois road districts and the inadequacy of the service in many respects in many localities."

"Highway commissioners are allowed to spend large sums of money, sometimes without the proper understanding of what work should be done and how best to do it. Expensive pieces of equipment are bought and used only for a few days each year. Labor is ineffectively employed and directed. The wrong materials or those which have not been tested are used in many instances. Also, poor methods of repair, construction and maintenance are often followed. The results are a waste of tax money."

Coordination Needed
"There is a decided lack of any coordinated highway plan embracing all systems for the state as a whole. There is a great need for the financial planning of highway work on all levels."

"Rural people in Illinois," the report continues, "want better farm-to-highway roads. They want roads that are passable every month of the year. They want them maintained and properly supervised. They want the roads they need and are willing to pay a reasonable price for them. They feel they are receiving very little for their dollar in many localities."

It is the opinion of the committee as contained in the report, copies of which can be obtained at all Illinois county Farm Bureaus, that the following benefits would be derived from the county unit road system:

- (1) Main feeder roads would be built continuous where needed, not observing township lines.
- (2) Bridges would be more adequately financed by the county, whereas the cost of the construction of a bridge might be a crushing load for a township.
- (3) Adequate equipment could be operated from strategic locations in the county for both construction and maintenance the year around, instead of but a few days or weeks each year by the township.
- (4) Trained men, efficient in their fields of operations, paid adequate salaries, would be given employment as administrators and operators.
- (5) Contracts could be awarded for much larger units and costs be reduced thereby.
- (6) There would be unity of construction and maintenance of all secondary roads through the county.
- (7) All roads would be more equally financed because of the larger tax base.
- (8) Adequate buildings for housing and repair of equipment could be built.
- (9) There would be less division of authority.

Russell Murphy Injured Wednesday In Auto Accident
Russell Murphy, 968 N. Prairie street, was injured Wednesday afternoon when his 1941 Ford coupe was forced off highway 36 near the Illinois School for the Deaf.

Murphy swerved to avoid striking an oncoming car passing another automobile from the same direction. He lost control of his vehicle and hit a tree. Neither of the passing motorists stopped.

X-ray examination at Passavant hospital revealed that the Jacksonville driver had incurred four fractured ribs on the right side. He is also suffering from moderate shock. His condition late Wednesday was reported as good. Dr. Harold Norris is the attending physician.

Deputy Sheriff L. L. Edler and John Irlam investigated the mishap. Murphy's car, extensively damaged, was taken to Lukeman's garage.

Charges Professor 'Made Studies' Of Her In The Nude

Columbia, S. C., Sept. 14—(AP)—An attractive nurse testified today at a University of South Carolina professor made "figure studies" of her "minus my bathing suit."

She is Ann B. Pierce, 39. She accuses the professor, Russell B. Maxey, 45, of breaking into her home and savagely beating her with a pistol.

Her face bearing scars, Miss Pierce said she met Maxey through their interest in photography. He proposed marriage several times, she added, but she declined.

They took a trip to Myrtle Beach, S. C., and there she continued, he made pictures of her "against the skyline on the sand minus my bathing suit."

As she prepared to retire Aug. 3, she heard a commotion under her bed, she said, and Maxey hastily crawled out and said "boo." Then he beat her with a pistol and entwined his legs around her neck in an effort to choke her, Miss Pierce said.

Shortly after he was arrested, Maxey told arresting officers he beat Miss Pierce because he was jealous and wanted to marry her.

LaSalle Mayor Orders Clean Up Of All Gambling

LaSalle, Ill., Sept. 14—(AP)—"Close down all forms of gambling in LaSalle."

That was the order given to Police Chief Edward P. Kasprowiez today by Mayor Matt Bildhauser.

The Mayor's order followed announcement by the LaSalle News-Tribune of a campaign to "stamp out, once and for all, all types of commercialized gambling and prostitution" in LaSalle county.

"I'll give the people of LaSalle the kind of town they want and the kind of representation they want," the mayor said in a statement.

The Chicago Daily News referred to LaSalle today as "little Reno."

The Chicago newspaper said gambling is going full blast, without hindrance from the police, in almost all of the city's 80 saloons. Many slot machines, the newspaper said, are unaccounted and can be seen from the street. LaSalle is about 80 miles southwest of Chicago.

President McClelland Opens M'Murray Year

The convocation marking the opening of the 104th academic year at MacMurray college was held in Grace church last evening.

Preceding President McClelland's address on "The Place of Religion at MacMurray," a quartet composed of Mrs. Lyleva Plunkett Engelman, Miss Lucille Haney, Mr. Joseph C. Clelland, and Mr. Henry E. Busch sang "Fear Not Ye, O Israel" by Dudley Buck.

President McClelland, in his address, emphasized the importance of religion at MacMurray and spoke particularly of the significance of the chapel services which, he said, were really services of worship.

He described worship as something active and positive, an effort usually made with others to show reverence, gratitude, and devotion to God. "Our worship," he said, "strange as it may seem is a response to God, who is constantly seeking us."

Benefits Of Prayer
President McClelland said that another element in worship is communion. He spoke of the benefit that comes from prayer in which faults are confessed, aspirations expressed, and lives are consecrated.

Another point with regard to worship which Dr. McClelland emphasized was self-examination, the putting of our lives over against the ideal which we find in Jesus Christ. "In genuine worship," he said, "we take a good look at ourselves. Ever again we need to take a look at ourselves in relation to our work. This brings us into the area of academic matters. There is a connection between what I have been saying and our work which is largely intellectual. Maybe there needs to be a revolution in our attitude towards the accomplishment of the tasks which are set before us. Do we regard study as necessary drudgery, endured for the purpose of getting grades and credit points? If so, we are missing the real purpose of being here."

'A Way Of Life'
"Our work should be a way of life in which our abilities find true expression. Our work should be creative, undertaken for the love of the work itself, of doing well something that is well worth doing. We serve God in our work and not outside of our work."

President McClelland felt that everybody needs the help that religion, including worship, brings. "A spiritual dissatisfaction and restlessness is evident on every hand, and the enormous sales of such books as Lieberman's 'Peace of Mind' and Sheen's 'Peace of Soul' indicate this." He expressed the hope that religion at MacMurray would be real and vital and the controlling interest of both students and faculty.

Buildings On New Hospital Grounds Sold Wednesday

Terms of the sale call for the removal of the house and other outbuildings, which were also sold, within a thirty day period. The sale totaled $1,652.

Only a few bidders participated in the sale of the large residence. Bidding on the outbuildings was more spirited.

A smoke house was sold to James Hicks, Jr., for $50, while J. D. Erickson purchased a coal house for $36. A hog house went to Guy Downs on his bid of $70.

Albert Hall purchased a toilet for $20.

A chicken house was sold to Howard Meyers for $110.

James Hicks, Jr., was the purchaser of a large barn, his bid being $300. Mr. Hicks also purchased four gates for $22.50.

A large building was sold to Walter Unken for $195.

Pearl Sapp bought a roof and rafters for $42, while Howard Meyers bought some scales for $14 and a small shed for $13.

The sale attracted a large crowd and was conducted by Middendorf Brothers, auctioneers, and J. Harry Dowland, clerk. These men donated their services.

Milton R. Range, president of the Passavant Memorial hospital board and Lee A. Sullivan, chairman of the Citizens' Building committee, were among those assisting at the sale.

The sale of the buildings brings closer the time when active construction of the new hospital building gets underway.

The architect has prepared plans for the building and is now working on the specifications. When this work is completed advertising for bids will be the next step, followed by actual construction.

The sewer to the hospital has been laid and workmen are now busy laying water mains. This work will be completed within the next ten days, hospital officials state.
